

Small group questions 3rd July. A heart of flesh

Read Ezekiel 11: 17 - 21; and Ezekiel 36 : 24 – 30

1. Have you ever come across a stony-hearted attitude?
How did it exhibit?
2. Ezekiel was addressing a nation where idolatry was a big problem. Is this relevant for today? What do you think are modern day idols in our nation? Are we as Christians in danger of idolatry?
3. Why can idolatry give us 'hearts of stone'? How does it change our attitude towards God?
4. Is there a process involved in receiving a new, clean 'heart of flesh'? (Is there a part that we need to play?)
5. How does having a heart of flesh change the way we live in relation to keeping God's law and living His way?

Share testimonies of how having a new heart has enabled you to live for God in a particular area (it may be that you have seen how your attitudes have changed, or you have been set free from a particular habit or thought pattern etc, etc).

Pray for each other, that the Lord would be renewing our hearts in the places where they have grown stony towards Him.

Small group questions 3rd July. A heart of flesh

Read Ezekiel 11: 17 - 21; and Ezekiel 36 : 24 – 30

1. Have you ever come across a stony-hearted attitude?
How did it exhibit?
2. Ezekiel was addressing a nation where idolatry was a big problem. Is this relevant for today? What do you think are modern day idols in our nation? Are we as Christians in danger of idolatry?
3. Why can idolatry give us 'hearts of stone'? How does it change our attitude towards God?
4. Is there a process involved in receiving a new, clean 'heart of flesh'? (Is there a part that we need to play?)
5. How does having a heart of flesh change the way we live in relation to keeping God's law and living His way?

Share testimonies of how having a new heart has enabled you to live for God in a particular area (it may be that you have seen how your attitudes have changed, or you have been set free from a particular habit or thought pattern etc, etc).

Pray for each other, that the Lord would be renewing our hearts in the places where they have grown stony towards Him.