

Study Notes: Ezekiel 48:35 and Matthew 28: 19-20

---

1. What does it mean for us that “God is there”?
2. How confident are we that we are already Citizens of Heaven?
Why do we feel as we do?
3. How do we feel about meeting God face to face? What do we think it will be like?
4. We are called to serve the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. He also tells us he loves us and in John 15:14 goes even further when he says, “You are my friends if you do what I command”. How then should we approach Jesus when we come to meet him in church, or in our groups, or in our own Quiet times?
5. We don’t know how long our lives will be, but each will vary in length. What does God want us to be doing with the rest of our lives? How does that fit in with our own plans, hopes and ambitions?
6. What difference does it make in our lives to know that we are accepted by the Lord for a purpose? What is that purpose?
7. Does the task God has given us mean that we should neglect our families: our parents, our children, our spouses, our cousins?
What balance should we reach on a day by day basis?

Study Notes: Ezekiel 48:35 and Matthew 28: 19-20

---

1. What does it mean for us that “God is there”?
2. How confident are we that we are already Citizens of Heaven?
Why do we feel as we do?
3. How do we feel about meeting God face to face? What do we think it will be like?
4. We are called to serve the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. He also tells us he loves us and in John 15:14 goes even further when he says, “You are my friends if you do what I command”. How then should we approach Jesus when we come to meet him in church, or in our groups, or in our own Quiet times?
5. We don’t know how long our lives will be, but each will vary in length. What does God want us to be doing with the rest of our lives? How does that fit in with our own plans, hopes and ambitions?
6. What difference does it make in our lives to know that we are accepted by the Lord for a purpose? What is that purpose?
7. Does the task God has given us mean that we should neglect our families: our parents, our children, our spouses, our cousins?
What balance should we reach on a day by day basis?