

Bible study notes 3rd September 2017

This passage gives a call to those who are dissatisfied with their life. To those who feel there is more to life than just making a living. In Oriental countries water is scarce and is sold by a vendor, who calls out attracting people to what he is selling. Isaiah is saying that God is calling out offering not physical water but spiritual refreshment. This blessing that God wants to give is not just for His people but for all who are thirsty. The call is the same as made by Jesus in St. Matthew chapter 11 verses 28 -29. This passage reminds us no matter how hard we try we cannot get real satisfaction. That real satisfaction, real life is a gift from God that cannot be bought or earned. It is a gift of God but it brings with it obligations.

=====

- 1) What are we told to do in order to get what God offers and is anyone excluded?
- 2) Why is it often so hard to “listen”, hear and do what God says?
- 3) What do we learn about the sovereignty of God in this passage?
- 4) What is the promise of God in the closing verses and how does this affect us?

Bible study notes 3rd September 2017

This passage gives a call to those who are dissatisfied with their life. To those who feel there is more to life than just making a living. In Oriental countries water is scarce and is sold by a vendor, who calls out attracting people to what he is selling. Isaiah is saying that God is calling out offering not physical water but spiritual refreshment. This blessing that God wants to give is not just for His people but for all who are thirsty. The call is the same as made by Jesus in St. Matthew chapter 11 verses 28 -29. This passage reminds us no matter how hard we try we cannot get real satisfaction. That real satisfaction, real life is a gift from God that cannot be bought or earned. It is a gift of God but it brings with it obligations.

=====

- 1) What are we told to do in order to get what God offers and is anyone excluded?
- 2) Why is it often so hard to “listen”, hear and do what God says?
- 3) What do we learn about the sovereignty of God in this passage?
- 4) What is the promise of God in the closing verses and how does this affect us?